THE PREFACE.

THE great increaſe of the numerous Out Poor has induced the preſent Overſeers to lay before the Town an account of all who receive pay, and it is reſpectfully intreated of the inhabitants unto whom theſe books are given, to read with attention the following liſt, as it is certain in a buſineſs of ſo great an extent, many impoſitions may be found, and every information, where the charity is in any reſpect miſapplied, will be received by the Collectors, and ſtrictly attended to, with thanks, by the Overſeers. It cannot be but with the utmoſt concern to obſerve the growing increaſe of the Poors Rates, which has progreſſively advanced to the preſent alarming amount. In addition to the young, who are incapable of the leaſt employment, and to thoſe whoſe years and infirmities render them equally ſo, the expences attending the Militia are none of the leaſt; their wives and families, together with the wives and families of men gone for ſoldiers, and many others whoſe names are annexed, having abſented from their families; which ſerve to conſtitute a part of the heavy burden, and to learn, if poſſible, their retreats, is an object of great conſideration.

Many of the preſent poor claim their ſettlement with us, owing to their being hired ſervants. On this head, the officers requeſt the inhabitants attention to the following annexed mode of hiring, which was ſome years paſt recommended by their predeceſſors.

MEMORANDUM. It is this day agreed, between A. B. of Birmingham, Buckle-maker, and C. D. of the ſame place, Buckle-ſiler, as follows: firſt the ſaid C. D. in conſideration of the wages hereinafter agreed to be paid to him, agrees to ſerve the ſaid A. B. as a journeyman, for the term of twelve months, to be computed from the date hereof, in the trade or buſineſs of filing buckles, to work the uſual working hours in the ſix working days in each week; but reſerving and excepting to himſelf Sundays, and all other times, excluſive of ſuch uſual working hours. And the ſaid A. B. agrees to find the ſaid C. D. conſtant employment in the ſaid trade of filing buckles, and to pay him ſuch prices as be uſu- ally pays to other workmen in the said trade, for the same kind of work, or shillings for each day that he shall work the usual working hours.

Witness the hands of the said parties, this 1st day of January, 1782.

N. B. It is requested by the Overseers, when the term of any journeyman expires who has been hired under this form, that the agreement, which can no longer be of any use to the employer, may be delivered to the Overseers to be numbered and registered alphabetically in a book for that purpose, to be deposited in the parish chest.

This hint was suggested by a very respectable magistrate, with a view to prevent litigations, or that the agreement may be produced in case of a contest.

It is with all possible deference that the inhabitants are desired not to recommend any, who can possibly do without assistance from the public purse, and further request the writers of Notes, as a recommendation with objects for pay or clothes, would be cautious to learn of the person what pay they already receive from the Town, or when they last received any wearing apparel from the Overseers, who would be glad to have it specified in the note, as it would be productive of two good purposes, viz. It would suppress the numerous applications for recommendations, and prevent some people from being offended at the Overseers, for not complying with their request; as it frequently happens that designing people, by some means or other, make friends to get a recommendation for sundry wearing apparel, &c. which they bring with much effrontery, and when informed of the reason for a non-compliance, having received similar favours of a recent date, behave insolent, and perhaps represent the matter in an unfair light to the recommender.

To prevent this imposition, the collectors personally visit and report every fresh application, previous to their being relieved, unless their distress is very obvious.

Many who have been relieved under some casual hurt or misfortune, relinquish their pay with reluctance and complaint; it is therefore requested, that when a recommendation is found absolutely necessary, that its continuance may be judged at by the writer, if practicable; on the contrary, hope the public will not be offended if the Overseers withdraw the weekly payment, as soon as the person comes for pay without a note, unless it is in cases of sickness, when they are at all times governed by the report of the surgeon employed to attend upon the poor.
